

Feast of the Chair of St Peter - 22nd February

O Holy Apostle Peter, because you are the Rock upon which Almighty God has built his church; obtain for me I pray you, lively faith, firm hope and burning love; complete detachment from myself, patience in adversity, humility in prosperity, recollection in prayer, purity of heart, a right intention in all my works, constancy in my resolutions, resignation to the will of God and perseverance in the grace of God even unto death: that so. by means of your intercession and your glorious merits, I may be made worthy to appear before the chief and eternal Shepherd of souls, Jesus Christ, Who with the Father and the Holy Spirit lives and reigns for ever. Amen.

Parish Bulletin | First Sunday in Lent | 21st February 2021

here's a legend from the 16th Century that tells the tale of Dr Faustus, supposedly a German genius who made it as far as he possibly could on his own brains and with all his learning and still felt that greatness eluded him. Whatever of the great learnings of the day he looked at – medicine, law, science, theology – he felt none of them had anything to offer him, so he looked elsewhere. He was a given a choice of paths in life - a good Angel offered him eternal life if he lived by his conscience, the Devil offered him power and happiness in this world for 24 years but at the end of it the Devil would come for his soul. Faustus took the easy path and gave into the temptation of the Devil, made a pact and had a wonderful time for the 24 years he was given. But time ticked on and the years ran quickly in, and one night at 11.00 the clock struck and Faustus realised he had only one more hour before he had to surrender his soul to Satan. Suddenly he was terrified. He cried out in fear "Stand still, you ever moving spheres of heaven, that time may cease, and midnight never come; Fair Nature's eye, rise, rise again and make perpetual day; or let this hour be but a year, a month, a week, a natural day, that Faustus may repent and save his soul." But it was all too late, at midnight the Devil came and claimed his own. It's a sad tale with a clear message to us all, the temptation to go the easy way in life is great, but giving in to temptation can never end well and can never make us happy. In life, we always come to times and situations where we sell out. Sometimes we sell out for good and sometimes for bad. We sell out either to God or to the Devil. God's way will always be a more difficult path to tread, but it's the one that brings long term happiness, peace and the gift of being able to look the world in the eye and stand proudly before God at the last. The easy way is to give in to the temptation for the quick fix, the easy answer, the path that doesn't cost us, exert us and ask anything of us – the instant result. But the instant result rarely brings a happiness that lasts because deep down we know we could have done things better or just done things right. We sell out to temptation for handiness, appearances, popularity or sometimes even fear, but deep down we know it's not right. Today's Gospel tells of Christ being tempted in the wilderness – how easy it would have been for Him to give in and sell out too, think of the pain and suffering He could have avoided, but He knew the path of good and the path of God was the only way to live, the only one that gave lesson, example and the long-term happiness of all mankind. To say no to temptation isn't easy, it takes courage, but when you doubt your ability to do what is right, think of Christ and His example and be brave too, be good and do things as best as you can.

With best wishes for the week,

Fr O'Neill
